DECISION AND ENTRY
DISMISSING PLAINTIFF'S COMPLAINT
WITHOUT PREJUDICE

REECE, J.

On June 20, 2011, the Court issued a Decision and Entry that granted in part Defendants Go Daddy Group, Inc. and GoDaddy.com's (collectively "GoDaddy") May 3, 2011 Motion to Dismiss or, in the Alternative, Motion for a More Definite Statement. The Court ordered Plaintiff Ann M. Yeager ("Plaintiff") to file a more definite statement of her claims in accordance with Civ.R. 8(A) and (E) and Civ.R. 12(E), within fourteen days of the Decision and Entry. The Court informed Plaintiff that failure to do so will result in the dismissal of her Complaint, without prejudice.

On July 7, 2011, Plaintiff, pro se, filed a "Motion to Stay Judgment and Grant Plaintiff More Time in Which to File." Therein, Plaintiff requested a thirty-day extension of time from the date of the Court's Decision and Entry to file an amended Complaint providing a more definite statement of her claims. Plaintiff informed the Court that she has been actively seeking legal counsel but has been unable to secure one, and she has been unable to timely complete her legal research due to the limited hours of operation of the law library in the county of her residence.

Then, on July 21, 2011, Plaintiff filed a “Motion [to] Extend Time to Comply Until October 1, 2011 for Good Cause; or Reconsider Any Order Otherwise Dismissing.” Plaintiff informed the Court that she is still not represented by legal counsel, she still cannot complete her legal research in time, and she has been suffering from bouts of depression and mental anguish caused by Defendants’ alleged negligence. In addition, Plaintiff informed the Court that she has been taking care of her elderly mother and her estate, and she has had to mow the lawn for three hours at a time during the heavy rainfall season, and she therefore requires additional time to file her amended pleading.

Although Plaintiff’s first request for a time extension was unopposed, Defendant International Corporation of Assigned Names and Numbers (“ICANN”) filed a Memorandum Contra Plaintiff’s Second Motion to Extend Time on July 27, 2011. ICANN argued that Plaintiff’s pro se status does not excuse her from complying with the Court’s orders and does not entitle her to deference. ICANN noted that both of Plaintiff’s requests were filed after the original deadline to file a more definite statement had expired. In any event, ICANN argued that a three-month extension of time to file an amended pleading was excessive.

The Court notes that Plaintiff’s second proposed deadline for her amended pleading, October 1, 2011, has passed and Plaintiff has yet to file an amended Complaint providing a more definite statement of her claims, as ordered by the Court. Even if the Court were to grant Plaintiff’s request for a time extension, Plaintiff still could not comply with her proposed October 1, 2011 deadline. Accordingly, and pursuant to the Court’s June 20, 2011 Decision and Entry, the Court hereby DISMISSES Plaintiff’s Complaint, without prejudice.

All remaining pending motions are hereby DISMISSED AS MOOT.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
